DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This house is located on the west side of San Mar Road, south of Mt. Lena, southeast of Hagerstown and north of Boonsboro in Washington County, Maryland. It is situated on level ground near the edge of the road and faces east.

The building is said to have been a secondary dwelling for the large stone house and mill complex which is located across San Mar Road and which is discussed in survey form WA-II-164. It is a one and a half story, three bay stone structure sheathed with white stucco. A frame German sided wing extends to the rear and is said to have been added about 1930. It, too, is one and a half stories in height. A wide gable roofed dormer with three double hung sash windows has been added to the south slope of the roof and appears to date from the 1930 period.

Windows have moderately wide frames which hold two over two pane sashes. The door is located in the center bay of the front elevation and has its lintel on a slightly lower level than the tops of the windows on either side of it.

Extending across the front elevation is a porch with a low hipped roof supported by chamfered square posts.

The roof is sheathed with modern asphalt shingles and extends well beyond the end walls of the house.

The house is in excellent condition.
